School Profile 2018-2019

Founded by American educators and philanthropists in 1878, the American Collegiate Institute (ACI) is an independent, co-educational high school which prepares students for higher education in Turkey and abroad.

ACI's mission is to develop the personal, social and environmental responsibility of students who are bilingual in Turkish and English. ACI is committed to inspiring students to become life-long learners with the necessary skills, accountability, and attitudes required for leading a fulfilling life, and for serving their country and humanity. ACI is co-governed by a private Turkish charitable foundation known in Turkey as SEV. The same organization operates Üsküdar American Academy, Tarsus American College, and SEV American College.

ACI is fully accredited by and operates under the jurisdiction of the Turkish Ministry of Education. ACI was accredited by the European Council of International Schools (ECIS) in 1994 and receives continuing accreditation through the Council of International Schools (CIS.) ACI has been an International Baccalaureate World School since 2005.

Semester system

- 12 acre garden campus with 186 olive trees, near the Aegean Sea in the coastal city of Izmir
- Several ACI buildings have Historical Landmark Status
- Naomi Foster Library contains 60,000 volumes and is the largest high school library in the Aegean Area
- First Turkish School in Turkey to be accredited by European Council of International Schools
- Member of Council of International Schools
- First high school in the Aegean Region to offer the International Baccalaureate Diploma, starting in 2005
- 10-15% of students receive financial aid from the SEV Foundation and/or the ACI Alumni Association

Curriculum

Our academic program follows a university preparatory curriculum with an intensive English focus. As bilingual scholars, our students learn to function effectively within two distinct teaching styles and cultures.

38-41 periods of instruction per week

50% of all class hours in grades 9-12 are taught in English

English is treated as a main course, and is also used to deliver instruction in mathematics and some science courses

All students take a full year of immersive English instruction during the mandatory preparatory year

English skills are assessed using the IELTS exam

All students must complete Turkish Lise Diploma (MEB) requirements

Turkish cultural subjects, including literature, social sciences, religion and psychology are taught in Turkish, according to national education regulation

Elective course offerings include art, music, physical education, French, German and Spanish

By graduation, students complete a demanding program averaging twelve courses per semester

Enter to Learn, Depart to Serve

Service clubs dedicated to enriching the lives of others have been a long tradition at ACI. They include:

- LOSEV Cancer Care Club
- Simply Green Club
- Old Folks Club
- Braille Club
- Animal Shelter Club
- Children's Hospital Club
- Helping Hands Club
- Book Mobile Club

Student-run events, such as MOODS and Bazaar Day, along with Student Council events through the year, help fund ACI Service Clubs.

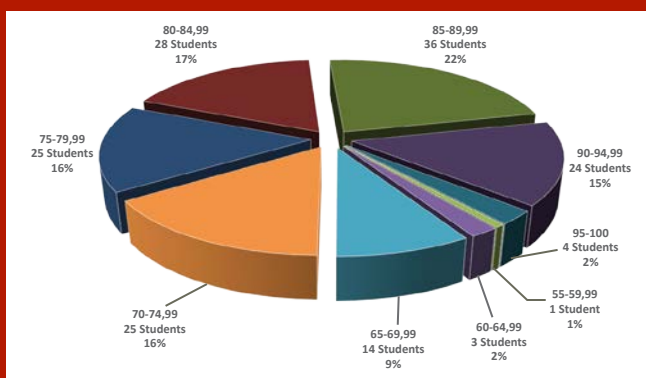

ACI offers 92 clubs and organizations for students including Student Council, Model United Nations, Junior Achievement, and the International Student Theater Association (ISTA) festivals. ACI is active in linguistic and mathematics competitions on both national and international levels.

Academic Grading System

ACI does not report rank. GPA is calculated by weighting each subject according to the number of lessons per week. Grades are scored on a 100-point scale: 50% is a passing grade, while 90% and above is rare. An honor student must obtain a weighted average of 70%, while a high honors students must obtain 85%. Both distinctions are determined by end-of-semester results.

Very Good	85 - 100
Good	70 - 84,99
Mediocre	60 - 69,99
Passing	50 - 59,99
Failing	0 - 49,99

Izmir

Known throughout the millennia as the "Pearl of the Aegean," the city of Izmir is the cultural, commercial and industrial center of Turkey's Aegean Coast.

Home to a population of four million, Izmir is situated on a beautiful, large bay surrounded by mountains, only 90 km away from Cesme, a famous coastal town, and the ancient Ephesus archeological site, which housed one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.

With settlements dating back to 3000 BC, and once home to Homer, Izmir has grown through the ages to become a city of old and new. Home to nine universities, multiple museums, historical, cultural and entertainment sites, Izmir's pivotal location offers connections by air to over 20 European cities. Izmir's modern Adnan Menderes Airport is only an hour flight from Istanbul.
